

of human, professional and technical support and indicate the financial assistance which the Ministry of Cultural Heritage and Activities, with contributions from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, could make available to UNESCO for its implementation within the available financial resources.

Advisory services by the Group shall be enacted only upon official endorsement by UNESCO. The endorsement will comprise an indication by UNESCO of financial assistance it may provide, under its budget, for the implementation of the advisory services that it has endorsed.

UNESCO shall inform the beneficiary country on such advisory services, in writing.

All missions by Group members under the present Joint Declaration shall be formally agreed upon jointly between the Government of Italy and UNESCO. UNESCO shall inform the beneficiary country on such missions, in writing. Such missions shall be carried out under the joint auspices of the Government of Italy and UNESCO, and facilitated by the latter. However, Group members participating in missions will not be granted status as UNESCO staff. Thus, mission members will neither benefit from UN privileges and immunities, nor from UN security coverage, during such missions.

The Group shall report to UNESCO and to the Government of Italy on the implementation of its advisory services provided under the present Joint Declaration, on a regular basis.

The Government of Italy and UNESCO shall regularly review activities under the present Joint Declaration, as appropriate and at the initiative of either Party.

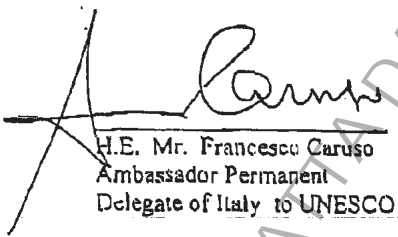

Each of the Parties to the present Joint Declaration can decide to terminate the co-operation established hereunder, and should notify this decision in writing.
